Practical challenges of enforcing arbitration awards and effective strategies of maximising recovery in international arbitration

The seminar will be given by Mike McClure, Korea Head of Disputes at Herbert Smith Freehills, who has extensive international arbitration experience and a profound appreciation of businesses' needs both generally and within the context of international arbitration. The seminar will not only consider the challenges that exist in these difficult jurisdictions but also explore practical and effective strategies that may be deployed to maximise recovery.

This seminar will also present the perfect opportunity for participants to share their experience of seeking to enforce and arbitral award in challenging jurisdictions and discuss ways to seek recovery.
